Dear Cabin Leader:

Welcome to the Shady Creek staff! You are an important part of the team of Cabin Leaders, teachers, and naturalists that make Shady Creek a unique and wonderful experience for thousands of fifth and sixth graders each year. Your job is both challenging and extremely rewarding. You have the responsibility for leading young people through a fun and exciting week of learning in an outdoor classroom. Your primary concern is always for the safety and well-being of the kids. You will spend just one week of your life with these children, but the experiences you'll share are bound to leave memories for you and your kids that will last a lifetime. You will learn as they learn. Without a doubt you will discover new things about yourself. The more energy, enthusiasm, and caring you put into this week, the better experience the students will have and the more you will receive in return.

Shady Creek Outdoor School is a place that teaches children about the natural environment, outdoor skills, and cultural history. Along with the students, you will have the chance to learn about these subjects. Shady Creek is also a place where young people learn important social skills – living with a new group of students in beautiful but unfamiliar surroundings – developing self-confidence and a sense of independence during a week of outdoor adventure and learning. The role of Cabin Leader at Shady Creek is one of leadership. The key to a great week at Shady Creek is for you to provide the direction, guidance, and leadership your kids need, while filling the week with all the fun and good times you can muster.

Thank you. We hope you have a wonderful experience at Shady Creek!

Sincerely,

The Shady Creek Staff

ROLE MODEL AND LEADER

As a Shady Creek cabin leader you will become a role model for fifth and sixth grade students. The students will look up to you. Not only will they be watching your every move, they will also begin to act like you, talk like you, and even dress like you! Remember, you will constantly be teaching by the example you set.

To be an effective cabin leader, you will need to be exactly that, a leader. The students in your cabin need your direction and leadership and will look to you for guidance and approval. We have discovered that every time Shady Creek has a truly outstanding week, we have Cabin Leaders that are excellent leaders and outstanding role models.

LEADING THE PACK

Patience:

There will be times when the students' needs and actions will try your patience. If you stay focused, take the time to get to know your students, listen to them, and; when necessary, seek assistance from teachers and naturalist staff, you and your students will have a great week.

Attitude:

From the moment you meet your students they will be assessing who you are and how they feel about you (and ultimately their week at Shady Creek). Greet the students with a smile, take an interest in them, stay positive, and be a great role model. Your positive outlook will rub off on the students and ultimately guide their behavior.

Caring:

When you take the time to learn your students' names, listen when they talk, and take an interest in them, they will know that you care. When the students feel cared about they also feel safe and secure in their new surroundings. Such caring is the foundation for a week at Shady Creek Outdoor School.

Kids:

Always remember that we are all here for the kids who are in attendance. Keep your focus on your students and let us know of any ways we can help to make this a positive experience for them (and ultimately for you as well).

MORE CHARACTERISTICS OF A GREAT CABIN LEADER

They like children!

They enjoy nature and the outdoors.

They are enthusiastic and energetic.

They have a sense of humor.

They are good role models in behavior and appearance.

They are firm, fair, and friendly in dealing with children.

They ask for help when needed.

STEPS FOR A GREAT WEEK

CHOOSE YOUR NATURE NAME

You will go by this name at Shady Creek. It can be something you like from nature, it can be similar to your real name or not, but it should feel right to you. Plants, animals, weather, geology, you name it. Literally.

RIGHT OFF THE BUS

The Cabin Leader Coordinator will meet you on the first morning and give you a brief orientation. Listen carefully and ask questions. You will receive a binder, a schedule, and more suggestions for cabin activities. Get to know your fellow staff, the naturalists, and other cabin leaders. When you meet the kids for the first time smile and do your best to make a good first impression. The students will be excited to meet you!

SET THE TONE

For many of you, your first chance to set the tone for the week will be when you meet the bus to ride up to Shady Creek. You won't know who is in your cabin yet, but still take the time to talk to the children around you. Ask them questions and find out what their interests are.

When you get to Shady Creek you will get to make an impression on the camp when you introduce yourself during opening program. Be prepared to tell everyone your nature name and what cabin you are in. To make a positive impression when introducing yourself, smile and be enthusiastic. During opening program we will sing a song called "Dirt Made My Lunch." Stand up, dance, and sing along with the naturalist staff. The more engaged you are, the more engaged the students will be. To prepare you for the song here are the words to the chorus:

| Dirt made my lunch, dirt made my lunch Well thank you dirt, yeah thanks a bunch For my pizza, my salad, my milk, and my munch because Dirt made my lunch, wooooo! Dirt made my lunch. |

MAKE THE MOST OF IT

Remember, FUN and SAFETY are top priorities! Make the most of the times you are with your cabin group. Keep kids occupied with games and avoid cabin "dead time" because that is when problems can start. There are two outdoor classes each day. You are assigned to either a morning or afternoon class, kitchen shift, or rec leader role. Help your students find their classes and then locate your own.

MAKE IT MEMORABLE

Thursday evening or early Friday morning encourage your kids to exchange addresses with new friends. Bring them together for a memory sharing time, during which they can share highlights of the week and sign autographs.

CABIN LEADER ROLES

This is a big job with a lot of responsibilities. To make things easier, here is a list of a Shady Creek Cabin Leader's primary roles inside and outside the cabin.

INSIDE THE CABIN

MOVING IN

- ❖ The principal and program director will assign you and your students to a cabin.
- ❖ Be sure all students are present! If not, notify the principal or Cabin Leader Coordinator.
- ❖ Assign bunks and make sure kids integrate with kids from other schools. Avoid students from one school dominating the room.
- ❖ Be sure that sleepwalkers, bed wetters and students with physical impairments get a bottom bunk. You will receive this confidential information from the school nurse. Remember to be discreet!
- ❖ Introduce yourself to the students and help them get to know each other. See "Cabin Games" for icebreakers and other activities.
- ❖ Go over the daily schedule, including class times, cabin clean-up, quiet cabin time, shower time, bedtime and lights out.
- ❖ Set limits – make the rules and your expectations clear.
- ❖ Observe your students – Are they dressed properly for an outdoor class? Are they involved? Do they look healthy? Etc.
- ❖ Keep track of students who take medication and take them to the nurse (you will receive this information on the first day)
- ❖ Formulate a Cabin Contract with the students. Write them down and post them on the wall. Let the students suggest the rules. Do not allow silly or inappropriate rules, and try to use positive language. Typical rules are:
 - Keep your bunk and belongings clean and neat.
 - Hands off each other's belongings.
 - Treat each other with respect.
 - Use positive language.

QUIET CABIN TIME

Each day students will be given quiet time in the cabin. Many students bring journals and their teachers expect them to work on them in the cabin. Ask the kids in your group if they have a journal and encourage them to write during the quiet cabin time. Students may also take this time to sleep, or read. This is also a good time to share a story, or quietly talk with bunkmates. The teachers and principal will help enforce that the time is quiet. After the students get used to this time, all of you will enjoy the quiet.

SHOWER TIME

The restrooms at Shady Creek are located very close to the cabins. They are nice, but you will have to share with other cabins. To make sure all the teachers and students have the opportunity for a hot shower, each cabin has an assigned shower time. It is very important that your cabin STICK TO THE SCHEDULE. During your cabins shower time, be present. Do not wait in the cabin while the students shower. You should be making sure they are taking short showers and being respectful to each other during this time. Please check the stalls after your cabin has showered to make sure nothing is left behind. You and the students are in charge of keeping the bathroom tidy throughout the week. You will have the opportunity to shower during your free time.

BEDTIME AND LIGHTS OUT

Getting children to quiet down and go to sleep can be a challenge. To do the same with a group of children in a new and exciting environment will definitely be a challenge. To get your cabin group ready to go to sleep, follow these steps:

1. Give them a specified amount of time to brush their teeth, use the restroom and get ready for bed. Go to the restrooms as a group. Do not allow students to shower at this time.
2. Give them five more minutes to get in their bunks.
3. They can now talk for five minutes, but they must stay in their bunks.
4. Now they can whisper for five minutes, but only to the person next to them.
5. If time still allows, read a book or story to the students or have a student volunteer to read it. Keep reading until lights out time.

As you probably noticed, this sequence of steps is from active to quiet to even quieter. If you allow the students to do what they want until lights out, they will continue to be active and noisy. You must have them wind down gradually. Be a leader! Have a plan and enforce it!

CABIN CLEAN UP & THE CABIN COOPERATION CONTEST

Each morning, you and your cabin members will need to clean your cabin before the morning class. This means having all personal belongings put away, emptying the trash, and sweeping or vacuuming. The principal checks the cabins shortly after breakfast, issues points, and daily totals are tallied at the end of the week. You can also be awarded points for good manners in the dining hall, or doing extra duties around camp. Prizes are given to the cleanest and best-behaved cabins.

CABIN GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

Group games can be important in helping your cabin achieve a feeling of togetherness. They can also help to eliminate discipline problems. Make sure that no roughhousing occurs during this time. Focus on a spirit of fun and good sportsmanship. Involve everyone and avoid games that create winners or losers.

The Shady Creek cabin leader coordinator will share several activities with you throughout the week. In addition, please bring some activities and ideas of your own and share them with fellow cabin leaders. You can look up games and skits that are easy to learn and facilitate online. Search for ‘games to play with campers’ or ‘fun camp skits’ to come extra prepared for your week as a Cabin Leader. A great place to look is www.ultimatecampresource.com. Here are a few suggestions to get you thinking.

1. Sing songs – Teach them something new to sing.
2. Name Game – Go around the circle saying your name plus the names of the people before you. “My name is ‘ _____ ’ and I like ‘ _____ ’ (soccer, carnivals, popcorn, etc.) Each person repeats the name and the info of the person before them, then says their own.
3. Silent Line Up - Challenge your students to silently line up by their shoe size, height, birthday, etc. Get progressively harder, and then talk to the students about nonverbal communication.
4. Charades – Two teams are chosen. Each team writes the name of a movie, book, or TV show on a piece of paper. Opposite team member must act out the title so their team will guess it. (3 minute time limit)

- 20 Questions – Leader thinks of something in room, players have 20 “yes” or “no” questions to guess what it is.
- Prepare and practice a skit for skit night.

OUTSIDE THE CABIN

CLASS TIME

Twice each day the students will go on outdoor classes to learn about birds, ecology, wilderness survival skills, native cultures and other subjects. Most Cabin Leaders will be assigned to one class each day. Because you are a powerful role model, your participation in activities and discussions will have a strong positive influence.

As a Cabin Leader on classes, your responsibilities include:

- Help the children pay attention and focus on the naturalist and the lesson. Tip: If you are interested in the lesson, the students will be interested too!
- Help the naturalist and teacher maintain good discipline. Tip: Speak quietly but firmly to children who are disturbing others. Encourage them to participate. Enforce hiking rules: stay on the trail, don't throw projectiles, walk down hills, etc.
- When hiking, and in circles it is best to place yourself in the middle of the group and away from other adults, to help supervise.
- In an emergency you may be needed to assist an injured student or take them to the Gauze Pad.

MEETING AND FREE TIME

During the class you are off duty, you have a brief meeting with the cabin leader coordinator and principal. This will be your time to address problems, ask questions, and share techniques that worked. After the meeting you will have free time to shower, do homework, catch up on your sleep, or explore the camp. Please do not enter other cabins, or join classes without asking permission from the naturalist.

EVENING PROGRAMS

Your role, aside from having a good time, will be to keep the kids focused, involved, and discourage any misbehavior. You will do this by sitting with your cabin group, and singing along on songs. Remember, you are a role model and your presence is very important!

On Skit Night you and the students are given the opportunity to share your own skits, songs, poems, and unique talents. Begin thinking about what you can do to encourage your cabin to participate. Help them write a skit about their week at Shady Creek, or have your cabin lead a sing along of one of the new songs they will learn at camp. The more excited you are, the more excited they will be!

MEALS

In the dining hall, you will supervise a table for your cabin group. Your role will be to organize the serving of the meal, and to encourage good table manners and behavior (i.e., saying “please” and “thank you”, and speaking in low “indoor” voices).

RECREATION

This is your time to shine as a leader and share some of your talents! Each afternoon, we offer recreation activities for the students. You will be assigned to supervise and lead an activity; you may lead a game called 'Gaga Ball', help kids make friendship bracelets, or teach the kids something you know (cheerleading, sign language, cartoon sketching, dancing, you name it!). You are responsible for getting your activity going, keeping the kids safe, and participating in the activity with the students at their level.

SHADY CREEK RULES!

Shady Creek is a School. Whenever students, teachers, and cabin leaders are present at Shady Creek, the facilities are considered to be a school. Like any other school, the following will not be tolerated:

1. Absolutely no alcohol or drugs! Students and cabin leaders found in violation will be sent back to their home school immediately and subject to the discipline policy there.
2. Smoking or chewing tobacco is not allowed! Use of these products on a school campus is in violation of the Education Code.
3. Stay with your assigned cabin group. Cabin leaders leaving their cabins and students are subject to immediate dismissal from Shady Creek.
4. Never be alone with just one student. At Shady Creek we practice the "rule of three," meaning students are always with a buddy or at least two adults.
5. Make sure all touching is appropriate and appears appropriate. High fives and side hugs are okay, long front hugs, lap sitting, and piggy back rides are not.

SAFETY RULES

1. If you go hiking on your break, tell the cabin leader coordinator and go in a group.
2. Know how to recognize and avoid poison oak.
3. Always know where your students are; report any missing student immediately to the principal or teacher.
4. Take any sick or injured student to the Gauze Pad (nurse's station) as soon as possible and bring all your students with you or have a teacher supervise them.
5. Report any safety hazards or problems in the cabin promptly to the Shady Creek staff.

CABIN LIVING RULES:

1. Students may not enter any cabin other than their own.
2. No rough-housing in the cabins.
3. Do not touch other student's belongings.
4. Lights out at 9:15 p.m.
5. No taking pictures inside of the cabin.

TECHNOLOGY RULES

For the students attending Shady Creek, this is a rare opportunity to experience a week free from television, video games, cell phones and the internet. You can help by observing the following rules:

1. Please only use your phone during your free time away from the students. This includes texting! Please don't discuss specific students in your cabin.
2. NEVER allow students to use your phone to call home. Only their teacher and the principal can make this decision.
3. Please do not play music in the cabin unless you bring an instrument or your cabin is singing.
4. NEVER post photos of students on the internet including social networking websites! You may take photos for your own personal memories.
5. You may use your phone as an alarm clock, time piece, and camera. However, please try to bring it out in front of kids as little as possible.

DISCIPLINE

There will definitely be times when you have to deal with misbehavior in the cabin. Try to be both firm and positive. Many behavior problems can be reduced or even eliminated by keeping the kids occupied with games and activities. Avoid those "dead" times. The best way to handle behavior problems is as follows:

1. Make your expectations and rules clear to the students on the first day. Be sure they understand. Be firm, set limits, and earn students' respect first; friendship will follow. You can get more lenient as the week goes on, but it's difficult to become strict after being lenient.
2. Praise students when they are doing what you have asked them to do. Let them know when they are doing a good job!
3. If a student chooses not to follow a cabin rule, you must enforce a consequence. Repeated warnings are only empty words, so follow through. Consequences which you can enforce are:
 - Time-out (five minutes of sitting quietly)
 - Visit with the student's teacher or principal.
4. If you are struggling with a specific student, find their teacher and ask for help. The teachers are your most valuable resource. They have been working with the students all school year and know each individual student better than anyone else at Shady Creek. You can get specific advice on how to handle the student from their teacher.
5. If a student breaks a rule after a warning, you must refer them to their teacher or the principal who may choose to discipline in one of the following manners:
 - Student meets with teacher (and may lose a privilege such as recreation).
 - Student meets with principal, may phone home.
 - Student is sent home.

REMEMBER that for any serious discipline problem, you should notify the student's teacher, principal, Cabin Leader coordinator, or program director! We want you to be the "good guy."

"Discipline" methods that are never allowed:

- Yelling at or threatening students. No foul language, including "shut up".
- Physical punishments (e.g. Push-ups, etc.).
- Never hold, hit, or strike a child!

Cabin Leaders should never take on disciplinary roles for anything except dealing with minor behavior problems. The teachers and the principal are the only part of our staff specifically responsible for discipline. Leaving the discipline up to them lets you remain on good terms with your cabin group. This way you can solve behavior problems without jeopardizing the wonderful friendships and bonds that form between you and your kids.

HELP

All of the staff here at Shady Creek recognize that your job is very challenging. Remember, you are not working alone! We are all available to help you, so please ask for help when you need it. If you have any problems with students or personal problems, let the principal know immediately.

BEHAVIOR PROBLEMS

The teachers are your most valuable resource for behavior problems. You will be meeting daily with the principal, so he or she may be the first person you notify. They can help resolve problems and make contact with the student's teacher. Notify the principal or program director immediately if a serious problem is encountered.

SICK OR INJURED STUDENTS

Take all sick or injured students to the Gauze Pad (nurse's station) next to the Dining Hall. You may ask a teacher or other adult staff member to assist you in getting a child to the nurse. Our nurse will treat minor injuries and illnesses and distribute students' medications throughout the day and evening. The nurse is a valuable resource to cabin leaders for advice in dealing with homesickness, bedwetting, and sleepwalking. Hopefully, everyone in your cabin will remain healthy throughout the week.

Thanks for volunteering to be a Cabin Leader at Shady Creek! And thanks for taking the time to read this and better prepare yourself for Shady Creek and your kids!
